SETA Accreditation number: ETDP10468

Reasons to choose Xhosa Fundis:

- We have full accreditation with the ETDP SETA.
- Our courses have a mother-tongue Xhosa speaker as the facilitator. This offers authentic contact with the culture, thereby deepening the learner's experience.
- Language taught on the course has been carefully selected for what is most useful in everyday Xhosa conversations. Grammar and pronunciation are integrated as tools for understanding and using this language content in order to avoid parrot-fashion learning.
- Our course materials are compellingly well-designed and engaging, as a result of eleven years of acknowledging and implementing learner feedback.
- With us, learning is supported between lessons and well beyond the course. For example, we send out weekly recap emails to all delegates between lessons. All students are given weekly take-home, pin-me-up cards reviewing key phrases. The course audio CD can be played in the car at any time. A letter is given to each learner to give to their chosen Xhosa-speaking Practise Partner. This establishes a relationship which allows for continued use of the language once the course has ended. We post regularly on our Facebook page, expanding further what has been learnt on our courses.
- Our course teaches language skills and cultural understanding relevant to current daily interactions. This gives delegates the means to interact confidently with native Xhosa speakers.
- Our course allows the usual status dynamics between staff to dissolve. This, as well as our team building activities, significantly improves staff relationships.

COURSE 1 CONTENT DESCRIPTION:

Course 1 equips learners with the most essential Xhosa social skills. The language taught on this course has been selected for its everyday usefulness in any given context. The course is carefully paced so that by the end, delegates are able to have a full conversation of everyday pleasantries, from greetings to making small talk to farewells.
